AN EDITOR IS ON THE BEACH.

Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald, Former Editor Of The Nashville Christian Advocate, Here.

MAKES THIS A WINTER HOME.

One of Daytona's distinguished winter visitors is again established at Daytona Beach, Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald, who for many years was the brilliant editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, the general organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Doctor Fitzgerald was called to Nashville from California to assist in editing the organ of his church and because of his brilliant editorial work in the West he was called to the editorship of the general church organ.

After years of distinguished service at Nashville, the General Conference of the Methodist church elevated him to the highest ecclesiastical position conferred by his church, that of Bishop.

Bishop Fitzgerald is now retired from active service and spends his winters on Daytona Beach, where he is much renowned for his learning and worthy Christian bearing.

The Bishop does not forget annually to pay his respects to the Daily News and is cordially welcomed on this side of the Halifax as often as he may see fit to come over.

RESISTING IMMIGRATION.

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—James P. Phelan, Mayor of San Francisco, will be called till the President today that the California Legislature would undoubtedly propose action upon the objectionable anti-Japanese measure until the next regular session, two years hence. Phelan said after the conference that the President said he was doing all he could to restrict the immigration of the Japanese, and desired the people of the Pacific Coast to hold their own hands for their own use, but that the President refused to consider the Japs in a class by the police, and legislation should apply to all foreigners.

Band Concert Tonight.

There will be a free band concert this evening at 8 o'clock, at the band stand, by the new Daytona band.

Citizens' Band at Wilmans.

The Daytona band will give a concert Sunday afternoon at the Wilmans Opera House, Seabreeze.

General J. A. and Mrs Smith arrived from Cleveland, Ohio, Wednesday and are located with J. I. Leach, on Fairview avenue. Gen. Smith, who has been coming to Daytona for several seasons, is just recovering from a severe illness brought on by overwork, he being the president of a commission having in charge the construction of a $1,000,000 building in Cleveland.

VALUABLE HORSE KILLED.

Horses Attached To Livery Hack Collide With Tree On Ridgewood Avenue.

James Ris, proprietor of the Halifax Livery, lost a valuable horse this morning, the horse being killed in a runaway which originated at the F. E. C. railway passenger depot.

The hack was sent out to meet the early morning train from the south, arriving here at 4:10. After backing up to the platform the driver left the team presumably to inquire if the train was on time, and while he was absent the horses became frightened by a passing freight and bolted from the yard.

They passed the gates in safety, ran eastward on Volusia avenue to Ridgewood and turned north on Ridgewood avenue, evidently bound for the stables on Third avenue, but near the Palmer place on Ridgewood they collided with a tree. One of the horses was killed, probably instantly, as it was dead when the driver reached the spot, a few moments later. The other horse tore loose from the wreckage and proceeded to the stables. The harness was badly torn up and the hack also received some damage.

AN AUTO IN FLAMES.

Last night about eight o'clock Robert L. Smith went to his home on Second avenue and left his automobile standing out front. He was using an ordinary lantern as tail light. By some means the lantern got aflame and fired the curtains of his automobile and when discovered the flames were almost enveloping the machine. The scene for a few minutes was a veritable one. A number of Second avenue ladies hastily took pails of water and with skirts gathered sufficiently well up in one hand and pails of water in the other they ran for the flaming auto and it was their timely assistance that saved the day as the flames were enveloping the steel frame which contained the supply of gasoline.

Excepting the top of the automobile which was ruined no particular damage was done.

If the ladies elsewhere in the city could duplicate the fire-fighting performance witnessed on Second avenue last night it would seem wise to encourage the organization of an Amazon's bucket brigade and let the men stand aside and look on.

A Card of Thanks.

On behalf of Dr. Buckman, I desire to express our deep appreciation and gratitude to our many friends, who were so kind to us during the period the doctor was delirious from an attack of brain fever.

The doctor is now in Washington, D. C., and is on the road to recovery, and in good spirits.

OLD SOLDIER CAMP FIRE.

The Joe Hooker Post, G. A. R., are preparing for a big spread tonight. "Dad" Matthews, Commander of the Post, is in charge of the arrangements, and this is sufficient guarantee that everything will come up in tip-top shape.

All old soldiers in and about Daytona whether you wore the Blue or the Gray, are cordially invited to be present. Of course this invitation extends to bona fide visitors, who fought in the "late unpleasantness."

DEFAULTER IS CAUGHT.

(By United Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 22.—Homer C. Talent, president of the San Diego Bank and Trust Co., has been taken into custody at San Diego and will be brought here. Later he will be taken to Piache, Neb., to answer nineteen indictments found by the grand jury and said to involve $750,000.

DAM BREAKS; MANY DROWN.

(By United Press.)

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 22.—Ten white miners and 150 natives were drowned today by the flooding of Knight's mines in the Witwatersrand district. The dam holding the supply of water for gold washing burst.

THE CRISIS IS PASSED.

(By United Press.)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 22.—Assemblymen who are anxious to avoid trouble with Japan and rush to kill the pending anti-Japanese bills stated today that it is very unlikely that the bills will be rushed. The senate, they say, will not pass the bills, nor would the governor sign them.

Governor Gillett said today that he had received a letter from Secretary Root upon the subject but considered the contents confidential.

MITCHELL IS DEFENDED.

(By United Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 22.—The United Mine Workers, in convention here today, appropriated $2,500 to be used in the defense of John Mitchell in the contempt proceedings.

DAYTONA HIGH SCHOOL PASSES THE MILLION MARK.

Halifax Rifles Make Good Gain In Piano Contest—Other Contest Notes.

Has the lode at last turned in the Bush & Safford Piano Contest? The Daytona High School has passed the one million mark, but at the same time the Halifax Rifles make a total gain of nearly thirty thousand. There may be something doing yet. The Rockets started a good note, and Miss Maggie Morton is still making a remarkable run for an individual.

Outside of Daytona, the Wilmans opera house made a small gain, but the Seabreeze High School is still rather close. The race for second place is a good one. However, the leader of the round was the showing made by the Kingston school, it passing the Daytona Beach M. E. parsonage.

COOPER CASE PROCEEDING.

(By United Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 22.—Colonel Duncan Cooper will take the stand for the defense in the murder case of himself, his son Robin, and resident John Sharp, held jointly for the murder of ex-Senator Carmack.

When court convened today one half of the jury had been selected. The jurors selected so far are: E. H. Burns, G. S. Legh, Robert McElhenie, G. A. Lane, J. M. Whitworth and Cooper Clowup.

The attorney general filed with the court today a demand that G. N. Tyler, juror number two, be disqualified. It is declared Legh was interested in the case he was selected.

Elks' Notice.

Daytona Lodge No. 1141 will hold a special meeting in its lodge room, Hall of Flags, Monday, Jan. 25, 1909, at 8 o'clock p. m. Regular routine work of the lodge will be transacted and upon the invitation of the officers, it is desired that as many members as possible be present.

DEATH OF A TOURIST.

Charles E. Bowles, aged 41 years, died on South Beach Street this morning of heart failure. The body will be shipped tomorrow from the Bingham & Mabry undertaking parlors to New Brunswick, N. J.

Mr. Bowles, who was a personal friend of L. W. Greene and family, of North Ridgewood avenue, came South because of ill health and arrived in Daytona only last Sunday from New York city.

NOW DON'T MENTION IT.

(By United Press.)

EDMOND, Okla., Jan. 22.—Lawyers representing Yarde Butler today demanded of the judge presiding in the striking coal case, that he prohibit the use of the Captain's name in the testimony being presented. Captain Yarde Butler was murdered by Thomas Atterson in the streets and against Mrs. Atterson, who is now figuring as co-respondent in Mrs. Starling's petition.

FATHER SHANA NEW RECTOR.

(By United Press.)

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—It is unofficially announced today that Pope Pius X has appointed Rev. Father J. Shana as rector of the Catholic University of America in Washington. Official confirmation of the report is expected tomorrow.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL.

(By United Press.)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Impressive ceremonies were held today attending the burial in Holy Sepulchre cemetery of Right Reverend Bernard J. McQuaid, late Roman Catholic Bishop of Rochester. Archbishop Farley officiated, assisted by clergymen of Catholic parishes from all over the country. The interment was in deep Sepulchre Cemetery.

HOBSON SEES BLOOD.

(By United Press.)

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—War with Japan is inevitable unless the United States at once orders the fleet back to the Pacific, said Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson today. If was a great tactical mistake on the part of the President to ever permit the fleet to leave the Pacific, he said.

EVERYTHING GOES IN DAYTONA.

Spiritualists, Phrenologists, Christian and Mental Scientists, Protestants, Catholics.

ALL THE ISMS AND OLOGIES.

It is only a short time since the spiritualists were shooting pistol shots with their mediums up South Street. They made a profound impression on quite a number, and won over several to their way of thinking.

Just now the Seventh Day Adventists are holding a series of meetings in the little tent just north of the city building, and seem to be in a fair way to win a number over to the persuasion of their beliefs and tenets. They observe Saturday as their holy day, and they preach that this old world is soon to expired, but about our last concern.

A few specimens of physical manhood with a lieutenant and patrolman of the police force in charge, are to be seen on the beach daily in physiological exhibitions on the river front parlors. By showing the comparative physical outline, the various lines and features, the cranial enlargements and depressions, he can tell whether you inherit outlived or primitive characteristics, and much else.

Christian Scientists are out regularly every Sunday, and tried out the theories of physicians, relying on the Divine healing power, and their numbers are increasing, not only here, but throughout the land.

Mental Scientists and their associates of them somewhat—are on the platter in denying the need of the hospitals of the ailments, only to succumb themselves to the ills they had denied, and die as others do. "Thought is all."

While not so much in the public eye just now as they have been in the past, they are active in their tenets.

The "reformers" classics are daily using preaching and teaching their views, and trying also to convert others into their kingdoms.

Numerous "cults" have their representatives in Daytona, and are quietly and scrupulously practicing their tenets and preaching their doctrines, and are in a position to point to many of their beliefs "made over," and to showcase the cases of hundreds.

What there is all to it, the people speak for hastily, but conservatively and seriously the various "isms" and "ologies" are in Daytona, and are there to be heard. Numerous are the converts in baptism by immersion and pouring, it is for others, or is not of record, to say how many of these are permanent converts to the tenets.

But it is certain to a certainty that all "isms" and "ologies" and "ists" are complacent in Daytona.

HELEN STECK CAN NOT GO ON STAGE

Such Is The Ultimatum Handed Down By The Determined Materfamilias.

SUN-LIT SKY SUDDENLY DARKENS

The Daytona friends and chums of Miss Helen Steck who were on the tiptoe of expectancy to read of her debut in gaudy lines tuggery before the footlights will be surprised to read that an obstruction has been found placing an effectual ban upon such appearance now, if not forever.

Mrs. Steck, mother of the ambitious girl, has put the seal of condemnation upon the proceeding and the whole thing has been declared off.

The following particulars of the story is from the New York Evening Telegram of Tuesday, the 19th:

Philadelphia, Pa., Tuesday.—There is gloom in some quarters of Philadelphia today. Miss Helen Steck is melancholy, Jacob Schubert is disappointed and the audience which hoped to see the young woman at the Lyric Theatre is in a disappointed frame of mind. All because, just in subdurum, the mother took a turning into at the psychological moment and announced that her child should not go on the stage.

Miss Steck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Milton Steck, who are at the Atlantic Hotel in New York. Mr. Steck owned lots of land in the coal region and his wife thought land in not worth much for farming, the underlying coal has caused him to be rated in the million dollar class. Mrs. Edna D. Steck decided, her sister, is at present a member of the "Havana" company, a musical comedy playing at the Lyric Theatre this week.

Mrs. Crothers went on the stage soon after her marriage. At that time she wanted to take her sister Helen with her, but there was parental opposition and Helen had to wait.

According to report, several days ago Miss Steck told friends that Helen had come. Anyway, she appeared likely in her home town of Philadelphia and began rehearsing a small part in the piece with her sister. Everything was set for her debut when Mrs. Steck took a hand in the whirlwinds of her daughter.

The long distance telephone, with her husband out east and Jacob Shubert in the city, got on and to Mrs. Helen Steck's utter separation for the time being.

Made a Hit.

Miss and friend scored a big hit at the Orpheum Theater again last night in their comedy skit, "The Arrival of Arabella." Miss Vincent in her comedy work is a decided success, one of the most indescribably looking beings that could be imagined. They appear again in an entirely new and thoroughly refreshing, "The Begin Detective."

EVERYTHING GOES IN DAYTONA.

Spiritualists, Phrenologists, Christian and Mental Scientists, Protestants, Catholics.

ALL THE ISMS AND OLOGIES.

It is only a short time since the Spiritualists were absorbing public attention with their seances up Beach street They made a profound impression on quite a number, and won over several to their way of thinking

Just now the Seventh Day Adventists are holding a series of meetings in the little tent just north of the city building, and seem in a fair way to win a number over to the acceptance of their beliefs and tenets. They observe Saturday as their holy day, and they preach that this old world, as now peopled, has about run her course.

A fine specimen of physical manhood with a luxuriant and patriarchal beard and apostolic ringlets of hair is engaged daily in phrenological exhibitions on the river front parkage. By observing the physiognomical facial contour, the various lines and features, the cranial enlargements and depressions he can tell whether you inherit maternal or paternal resemblances, and much else.

Christian Scientists meet regularly every Sunday, and need not the services of physicians, relying on the Divine for healing power, and their numbers are increasing, not only here, but throughout the land.

Mental Scientists—and there are numbers of them hereabout—are as emphatic in denying the need of the homopath or the allopath only they attach more importance to the "ego," and do not rely so much on the "Almighty." While not so much in the public eye just now as they have been in the years past, they are as firm in their beliefs.

The "orthodox" churches go right along preaching and teaching their convictions, and trying, with all the earnestness of their tongues and pens, to enlarge their kingdoms.

Numerous "cults" have their devotees persistently proclaiming to the world, and scrupulously practicing their tenets and prescribed dogmas All this and lots more is passing in review daily right before your eyes, and is absorbing the minds of hundreds.

What does it all mean? Now, don't speak too hastily, but reflect soberly and seriously; be cosmopolitan in speech, catholic in spirit; give the other fellow a chance to be heard. Suppose he believes in baptism by immersion and you want it by affusion, let it go at that and see on how many other more important matters you can agree.

Did it ever occur to you that all these 'isms" and "ologies" and "cults" are championed by people who are teaching

HELEN STECK CAN NOT GO ON STAGE

Such Is The Ultimatum Handed Down By The Determined Materfamilias.

SUN-LIT SKY SUDDENLY DARKENS

The Daytona friends and chums of Miss Helen Steck who were on the tiptoe of expectancy to read of her debut in gaudy knee toggery before the footlights will be surprised to read that an ultimatum has been issued placing an effectual ban upon such appearance now, if not forever.

Mrs. Steck mother of the ambitious girl, has put the seal of condemnation upon the proceeding and the whole thing has been declared off.

The following particulars of the story is from the New York Evening Telegram of Tuesday, the 19th:

Philadelphia, Pa., Tuesday.—There is gloom in some quarters of Philadelphia today. Miss Helen Steck is melancholy, Jacob Schubert is depressed and the audience which hoped to see the young woman at the Lyric Theatre is in a disappointed frame of mind. All because, just in melodrama, the mother took a leading role at the psychological moment and announced that her child should not go on the stage.

Miss Steck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Milton Steck, who are at the Ansonia Hotel in New York Mr. Steck owned lots of land in the coal region and while the land itself is not worth much for farming, the underlying coal has caused him to be rated in the million dollar class. Mrs. Edna B. Steck Croxton, her sister, is at present a member of the "Havana" company, a musical comedy playing at the Lyric Theater here. Mrs. Croxton went on the stage soon after her marriage. At that time she wanted to take her sister Helen with her, but there was parental opposition and Helen had to wait.

According to report, several days ago Mrs. Steck told friends that Helen had run away. Anyway, she appeared later in her home town of Philadelphia and began rehearsing a small part in the play with her sister. Everything was ready for her debut when Mrs. Steck was told of the whereabouts of her daughter.

The long distance telephone, with her mother at one end and Jacob Shubert at the other, put an end to Miss Helen Steck's stage aspiration for the time present.

Made a Hit.

Minor and Vincent scored a big hit at the Crystal Theater again last night in their comedy skit, "The Arrival of Arrabella. Miss Vincent in her comedy make-up, was, without a doubt, one of the most indescribable looking beings that could be imagined. They appear tonight in an entirely new act throughout, entitled, "The Bogus Detective."

MOUNT ETNA AND PEASANTS AT MESSINA.

When the great earthquake destroyed Messina, Reggio and many other towns in Sicily and Calabria the residents of Catania and Taormina feared an eruption from Mount Etna, and thousands of people fled from the section surrounding the volcano. All the volcanoes in the earthquake zone became more or less active, but Stromboli, which is in the Lapari Islands, was the only one that did much damage.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Jan. 22.—Quite an excitement was created in the two towns when the news was carried down the line that a man had been run down with an automobile, on Ocean boulevard, and several contradictory stories reached a Daily News reporter on the long trail from Daytona Beach to the scene of the accident, the facts of which, sifted down, are substantially as follows: Mrs. J. H. Pierson was driving down Ocean boulevard in an automobile, yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and had reached a point near The Clarendon, where travel was congested, when she met Mr. Pollard on his wheel, his little dog following him. Possibly confused, Mrs. Pierson turned in the wrong direction, and Mr. Pollard, in trying to save his dog was knocked off his wheel and badly bruised by the fall. Dr. Bohannon was telephoned for, and was soon on the spot. As soon as he ascertained the extent of Mr. Pollard's injuries, he took Mr. Pollard home in his machine, and in answer to a doctor message, reports nothing more serious than some painful lacerations and bruises.

The following party from Sheboygan, Wis., arrived yesterday, and will spend the winter at the Princess Issena: Mr. and Mrs. C. Cook, Mrs. A. C. Cook Arnold and Goodwin Cook, Mrs. I. J. Crane and Mrs. Mary Thomas.

Misses Macomber and Crosby prominent in settlement work in Minneapolis, arrived yesterday, and have taken rooms with Miss Orr, at her river front home. They will spend a month here before proceeding to Cuba.

General Phipps, a retired army officer, who has his summer home at Long Meadow, Mass., was down from Ormond yesterday morning, sailing on Col. and Mrs. Cordis, and Capt. and Mrs. Farrer, his Long Meadow neighbors.

Misses Pierson and friends made the trip to Ormond and the Bend grove yesterday morning in the Gilmore machine.

The Peninsular Publishing Company are having a power pump put in the printing office for the purpose of using a spigging Williman opera house, the store and residence with water. A standpipe has been put back of the stage for fire protection. With sufficient hose it can be used on nearby buildings. Staples & Cutlon are doing the work.

A party of hunters composed of Wm. Gray, M. L. Waggoner, James Wilson and Mr. Jackson returned yesterday afternoon from a very successful deer hunt in the Jamesville shores of Reed's, bringing back two deer. They report that the dogs started up a bear or two, and that deer were plentiful. On the two deer, M. L. Waggoner secured one and Mr. Jackson the other.

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 22.—Clifton Young is expected to arrive from Lexington, Ky., this afternoon on a visit to his mother on Ocean avenue. He will be accompanied south by his fiancee, Miss Margaret Van Meter, who will spend the winter here with her relatives.

Miss Fern Stewart had a number of friends in yesterday afternoon to help her celebrate her eighth birthday, which was also her mother's birthday. Miss Fern was the recipient of several handsome presents, among others a pin set with pearls, given to her by her parents. The ice cream was pretty during the day, and dainty and delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. Rowse, of Illinois, arrived yesterday and is a guest at the Surf Crest.

A Van Burkirk and wife, who were unexpectedly routed at the White House, have taken rooms at the Van Vactor block.

Among the numerous arrivals at the seaside inn are Mrs. Samuel H. Moore, Louisville, Ky.; A. B. Elliott, Chicago; A. B. Tucker, Elizabeth, N. J.; Chas. Rose and wife, Cincinnati; N. V. E. Hamell and wife, Harrison; F. E. Nelson and wife, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker and guest, Miss Place and Mrs. Ide, Dunkirk spent yesterday at New Smyrna.

L. McNutt and wife, of Jefferson, are recent arrivals at the White House.

Miss Pearl Spaulding entertained at an afternoon tea Monday in honor of Mrs. Oates.

Mr. Holbrook and daughter, of Malone, N. Y., have taken rooms in the E. E. Johnson summer house on Seabreeze.

Miss Ruth Oates entertained a number of her young friends Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sixteenth birthday.

A Three Legged Steer.

In 1867 Small Eyes, a Hualapai who had come down from the north and lived with the Apaches and lived with them, told Pete Bartlett, Charles Poston, George Bent's lodge, about having killed, between the Chuserus and Beaver creek, a tributary of the north fork of the Colorado, a buffalo bull which had only one hind leg. According to Small Eyes' story, it did not appear that the bull had lost one of its hind legs, but that it never had had more than one. The hind leg was very large, seemed to be in the middle of the body instead of at one side, and there was no sign of any missing leg. It looked as if the two legs from which the buffalo ordinarily has had to some way fused together.

The war party with which Small Eyes was traveling was passing along near a hollow when the bull came out of it, and some of the men ran ahead, got around it and shot it with a gun. It was not able to run fast but rather hobbled along.—Forest and Stream.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Jan. 22.—Quite an excitement was created in the two towns, when the news was carried down the line that a man had been run down with an automobile, on Ocean boulevard, and several contradictory stories reached a Daily News reporter on the long trail from Daytona Beach to the scene of the accident, the facts of which, sifted down, are substantially as follows: Mrs. J. H. Pierson was driving down Ocean boulevard in an automobile, yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and had reached a point near The Clarendon, where travel was congested, when she met Mr Pollard on his wheel, his little dog following him. Possibly confused, Mrs. Pierson turned in the wrong direction, and Mr. Pollard, in trying to save his dog, was knocked off his wheel and badly bruised by the fall. Dr. Bohannon was telephoned for, and was soon on the spot. As soon as he ascertained the extent of Mr. Pollard's injuries, he took Mr. Pollard home in his machine, and in answer to a 'phone message, reports nothing more serious than some painful lacerations and bruises.

The following party from Sheboygan, Wis., arrived yesterday, and will spend the winter at the Princess Issena: Mrs Geo. C. Cook, Mrs A. C. Cook, Annette and Goodwin Cook, Mrs. I. J. Chase and Mrs. Mary Thomas.

Misses Macomber and Crosby prominent in settlement work in Minneapolis, arrived yesterday, and have taken rooms with Miss Ott, at her river front home. They will spend a month here before proceeding to Cuba.

General Phipps, a retired army officer, who has his summer home at Long Meadow, Mass., was down from Ormond yesterday morning, calling on Col. and Mrs Cordis, and Capt. and Mrs. Parker, his Long Meadow neighbors.

Misses Peirson and friends made the trip to Ormond and the Beed grove yesterday morning in the Gilmore machine.

The Peninsular Publishing Company are having a power pump put in the printing office for the convenience of supplying Willmans opera house, the store and residence with water. A standpipe has been put back of the stage for fire protection. With sufficient hose it can be used on nearby buildings. Staples & Cutten are doing the work.

A party of hunters composed of Wm. Gray, M. L. Waggoner, James Wilcox and Mr. Jackson returned yesterday afternoon from a very successful deer hunt in the hammock above Knox & Beed's, bringing back two deer. They report that the dogs started up a bear or two, and that deer were plentiful. Of the two deer, M. L. Waggoner secured one and Mr. Jackson the other.

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 22—Clifton Young is expected to arrive from Lexington, Ky., this afternoon on a visit to his mother on Ocean avenue. He will be accompanied South by his cousin, Miss Margaret Van Meter, who will spend the winter here with her relatives.

Miss Faye Stewart had a number of friends in yesterday afternoon to help her celebrate her seventeenth birthday, which was also her mother's birthday. Miss Faye was the recipient of several handsome presents, among others a pin set with pearls, given to her by her parents. The sun parlor was prettily decorated, and a variety of dainty and toothsome refreshments were served.

Mr. Keene, of Illinois, arrived yesterday and is a guest at the Surf Crest.

J. Van Burkins and wife, who were temporarily located at the White House, have taken rooms in the Van Valzah block.

Among the numerous arrivals at the Seaside Inn are: Mrs. Samuel H. Moore, Louisville, Ky.; A. B. Elliott, Chicago; A. R. Tainter, Elizabeth, N. J.; Chas. Rose and wife, Cobbleskill, N. Y.; E. B. Solomon and wife, Dayton; F. E. Nettleson and wife, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Fickler and guest, Miss Place and Mrs. Jas. Banks spent yesterday at New Smyrna.

L. McNutt and wife, of Jefferson, Ohio, are recent arrivals at the White House.

Miss Pearl Spaulding entertained at an afternoon tea Monday in honor of Mrs. Oates.

Mr. Holdridge and daughter, of Medina, N. Y., have taken rooms in the E. E. Johnson cement house on Seabreeze.

Miss Ruth Coates entertained a number of her young friends Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sixteenth birthday.

A Three Legged Bison.

In 1807 Small Eyes, a Blackfoot who had come down from the north and joined the Arapahoes and lived with them, told Black Kettle, a Cheyenne in George Bent's lodge, about having killed, between the Cimarron and Beaver creek, a tributary of the north fork of the Canadian, a buffalo bull which had only one hind leg. According to Small Eyes' story, it did not appear that the bull had lost one of its hind legs, but rather that it never had had more than one. The hind leg was very large, seemed to be in the middle of the body instead of at one side, and there was no sign of any missing leg. It looked as if the two hind legs which the buffalo ordinarily has had in some way fused together.

The war party with which Small Eyes was traveling was passing along near a hollow when the bull came up out of it, and some of the men ran ahead, got around it and shot it with a gun. It was not able to run fast, but rather hobbled along.—Forest and Stream

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its emerald packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphalt-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of hard washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pounce on a fat mullet, and that fish hawk sail gliding upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, quick and spun, their bumpers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these rebounded arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds fitfully fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could, and the cabbage palms with their bunches of showy fruit and waving palms, see the lovely bulky with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines running riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous ferns which beguile a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of the Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a sumptuousness to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Wide and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it becomes a very trying task for the hand of man to give the artistic finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with its many intersecting miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "good bee" there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, sauey glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where:

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard rows of variegated hues predominate, another household limits a penchant for the poinsettia and the peonies are affairs; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds fit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, proficiency and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Hotel.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse-power up to a 200-horse-power, and all degrees of speed from a snail to a two-minute mile clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling bountiful water is free and you will have to throw in your wallet only for rent for the auto and bird and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see th climbing vines runn ng riot in the trees; see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or eve callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

German Humor.

The tendency of the German comic papers to smaller contemporaneous characters as "producers of mirth" is the subject of an article in a Berlin paper by Ludwig Bauer. The writer mentions as the most complete one of the funny figures the absent-minded professor whose habitual umbrella losing predilection have made generations laugh. This figure had its origin at a time, he says, when the men of letters was a helpless person in the active world—a dreamer dwelling in realms away from the actual and therefore kind to little mishaps. In this form he has been re, resented in the comic papers. But Germany, he thinks, not the professor, has been and is being outstripped. The professor today must be a wide awake man, for science is no longer an island. These are not the days for sleepy and far dreams. Another absent-minded character is the lieutenant who, having no foe to fight, is always shown as making conquests where Amor has command. The old motif is another of the stock figures, and one of equal importance is Mr. Newlywed. Of the latter it is said: "He is always full of fear and suspicion. He knows that he has been schooled, and he always frowns side to side like a timid rope walker. This makes him really funny, and we must laugh at his antics."

Too Slow to Be a Soldier.

In a room on the top floor of a large factory a boy was amusing himself by going through the regular exercise with a long handled brush in lieu of a rifle. His boss, coming quickly upon him, gave him a box on the ear for wasting his time. The sudden blow caused the lad to lose his balance and fall down the hoist shaft, but fortunately he kept his hold on the brush, the handle of which, getting across the shaft, broke his fall and enabled him to grasp the chain, down which he slid in safety. The boss was horrified at the effect of his action and rushed breathless and gasping with fear down the eight flights of stairs to the basement, expecting to find a mangled body for which he would have to account. His wait, however, just in time to see the lad drop on his feet unharmed, so, recovering his self possession and his breath, he exclaimed:

"Want to be a soldier, eh? Well, you're too slow for that. Why, man, I can walk down all those stairs quicker than you can fall down the hoist shaft."—London Answers.

Toward the Pole.

Ice eight feet thick on the ocean and snow falling even in summer—such is the weather experienced in the polar regions. When the air is dry and still it is remarkable how low a temperature can be borne with ease. One explorer tells us that with the thermometer at 0 degrees it was too warm for skating. The summer weather in this region is, moreover, by no means unpleasant and beautiful. Within the arctic zone therecare wonderfully assured sunrises and sunsets to be seen. They are both brilliant and impressive. But the nights—the nights are monotonous and repelling. A rigid world buried in everlasting snow, silent save for the cracking of the ice or the wail of the wind. Travelers in these regions experience many discomforts. The keen air causes their nails to burn and blister, while their fingers and toes ache. Thirst, again, has been much complained of, arising from the softer of the raw temperature on the warm body.

Only Night Air at Night.

Speaking of Florence Nightingale and her efforts to keep the world healthy, it seems pertinent to make special mention of her mission to behalf of the open window at night. In the early years of her activity the most intelligent opposition to this method of ventilation because of the supposed harmfulness of the night air was expressed, but Miss Nightingale had one stock argument in support of her position, it being the question, "What air shall we breathe at night but night air?" It was unanswerable from her opponents' point of view, even if it did not always convert them, but it did lead a countless number into easier ways of living and along the way to the present methods of treating tuberculosis.—Boston Transcript.

out for YOU, trying to win you over to their way of thinking? Don't hastily impute evil motives to them or think them insincere, or insinuate that they have "wheels" in their mental mechanism. Occasionally, to be sure, one is shown to be enlisted in the cause merely for the loaves and fishes, but the majority of them are sincere.

It is no difficult to find a well-rounded, symmetrical delicately poised mentality as it is to find physical perfection and physical perfection is as scarce as the proverbial scarceness of the gallinaceous bird's matrimonial aspirations. You may not have a "brain storm" but the pigeon holes of your memory are so organized by following the word that you can't store a thought away and remember it an hour; eyes are built of lenses and humors, mere physical machinery that the brain uses to see with; and so you hear with the brain not the ears and how many have perfect organs?

But this sermonette is exceeding the limits prescribed for it. It was begun with the idea of asking you to be broad, liberal, charitable, of asking you to give the other fellow a hearing; of crediting him with good intentions.

A Sweet Sister.

"This barber," said a doctor, "happened in Vienna two or three years ago, in the days when yellow fever were always to evidence. There was a physician of Montpelier who used to go from place to place to practice the healing art. He supplied a very ingenious remedy. It kept him on his way. When he came to a town where he was not known he pretended to have lost his dog, which he described was a very valuable animal, and ordered the public ever to roam about, beat load on his dress and offer a reward of 25 nobs to whoever should bring it to him. At the same time the order was directed to sacrifice all the fides and animals inmates of the doctor as well as his pack of hounds. Of course it happened that the doctor was not long in becoming almost the sole topic of talk in the town. The people made up their minds that he loved his dog more than he loved mankind. But plenty of patients were."

Winning a Juryman.

It is related of one of the most famous of French criminal lawyers in the last century, that in pleading a certain case he perverted that one of the jurors seemed to be hostile to his and his arguments.

In the faces of all the other men in the box he saw with his practiced eye that his oratory or his storehouse was having its effect, but his man, in spite of all Lachaud could do, remained frowning, suspicious, obstinate.

Lachaud continued with his work, however, and presently saw that his opportunity had come. It was a hot day, and a cup of midnight had been placed in reach of the juryman. Lachaud, pausing in the middle of his address, saw who was quite hot. He immediately proved to his argument and addressed himself directly to the juryman.

"If your honor would please," he said, "to order that the curtain in front window be lowered a little I should be able more readily to make myself understood."

This sign of watchful attention was the overture. The jury found not Lachaud's case.—New York Tribune.

Too Slow to Be a Soldier.

In a room on the top floor of a large factory a boy was amusing himself by going through the bayonet exercise with a long handled brush in lieu of a rifle. His boss, coming quickly upon him, gave him a box on the ear for wasting his time. The sudden blow caused the lad to lose his balance and fall down the hoist shaft, but fortunately he kept his hold on the brush, the handle of which, getting across the shaft, broke his fall and enabled him to grasp the chain, down which he slid in safety. The boss was horrified at the effect of his action and rushed breathless and gasping with fear down the eight flights of stairs to the basement, expecting to find a mangled body for which he would have to account. He was, however, just in time to see the lad drop on his feet unharmed, so, recovering his self possession and his breath, he exclaimed:

"Want to be a soldier, eh? Well, you're too slow for that. Why, man, I can walk down all those stairs quicker than you can fall down the hoist shaft."—London Answers.

Toward the Pole.

Ice eight feet thick on the ocean and snow falling even in summer—such is the weather experienced in the polar regions. When the air is dry and still it is remarkable how low a temperature can be borne with ease. One explorer tells us that with the thermometer at 9 degrees it was too warm for skating. The summer weather in this region is, moreover, in some respects pleasant and healthful. Within the arctic zone there are wonderfully colored sunrises and sunsets to be seen. They are both brilliant and impressive But the nights—the nights are monotonous and repelling. A rigid world buried in everlasting snow, silent save for the cracking of the ice or the wail of the wind. Travelers in these regions experience many discomforts. The keen air causes their skin to burn and blister, while their lips swell and crack. Thirst, again, has been much complained of, arising from the action of the low temperature on the warm body.

Only Night Air at Night.

Speaking of Florence Nightingale and her efforts to keep the world healthy, it seems pertinent to make special mention of her mission in behalf of the open window at night. In the early years of her labors much unintelligent opposition to this method of ventilation because of the supposed harmfulness of the night air was expressed, but Miss Nightingale had one stock argument in support of her position, it being the question, "What air shall we breathe at night but night air?" It was unanswerable from her opponents' point of view, even if it did not always convert them, but it did lead a countless number into saner ways of living and along the way to the present methods of treating tuberculosis.—Boston Transcript.

Garantized Oils.

The following advertisement of olive oil is the work of a Rio Janeiro firm:

"Ours olives oils have garantized of fitts quality. Diligently fabricated add filtrated, the consumer will find with them, the good taste and perfect preservation. For to escape to any conterfeit, is necessary to requiere on any bottles this contremarc deposed conformably to the law. The corks and the boxes hare all marked with the fire."—Case and Comment.

The Housekeeping Instinct.

A bright little girl who had successfully spelled the word "that" was asked by her teacher what would remain after the "t" had been taken away.

"The cups and saucers," was the prompt reply.

out for YOU, trying to win you over to their way of thinking? Don't hastily impute evil motives to them or think them insincere, or insinuate that they have "wheels" in their mental mechanism. Occasionally, to be sure, one is shown to be enlisted in the cause merely for the loaves and fishes, but the majority of them are sincere.

It is as difficult to find a well-rounded, symmetrical delicately poised mentality as it is to find physical perfection and physical perfection is as scarce as the proverbial scarceness of the gallinaceous bird's masticating apparatus. You may not have a "brain storm" but the pigeon holes of your memory are so impaired by smoking the weed that you can't store a thought away and remember it an hour; eyes are built of lenses and humors, mere physical machinery that the brain uses to see with; and so you hear with the brain not the ears and how many have perfect organs?

But this sermonette is exceeding the limits prescribed for it. It was begun with the idea of asking you to be broad, liberal, charitable; of asking you to give the other fellow a hearing; of crediting him with good intentions.

A Shrewd Doctor.

"This incident," said a doctor, "happened in France two or three centuries ago, in the days when public criers were always in evidence. There was a physician of Montpelier who used to go from place to place to practice the healing art. He employed a very ingenious trick to help him on his way. When he came to a town where he was not known he pretended to have lost his dog, which he declared was a very valuable animal, and ordered the public crier to roam about, beat loud on his drum and offer a reward of 25 louis to whoever should bring the dog to him. At the same time the crier was directed to mention all the titles and academic honors of the doctor as well as his place of residence. Of course it happened that the doctor was not long in becoming almost the sole topic of talk in the town. The people made up their minds that he must be a famous physician as well as a very rich one, as he could offer 25 louis for finding his dog. You might reasonably judge that the dog was never found, but plenty of patients were."

Winning a Juryman.

It is related of Lachaud, the most famous of French criminal lawyers in the last century, that in pleading a certain case he perceived that one of the jurors seemed to be hostile to him and his argument.

In the faces of all the other men in the box he saw with his practiced eyes that his oratory or his shrewdness was having its effect, but this man, in spite of all Lachaud could do, remained frowning, suspicious, obdurate.

Lachaud continued with his work, however, and presently saw that his opportunity had come. It was a hot day, and a ray of sunlight had penetrated a crevice on the curtain and was shining on top of the head of this juryman, who was quite bald. The lawyer paused in his argument and addressed himself directly to the court.

"If your honor would please," he said, "to order that the curtain in yonder window be lowered a trifle I am sure that the sixth juryman would appreciate it."

This sign of watchful attention won the obstinate juryman's heart and Lachaud's case.—New York Tribune.
